EXPERIMENTAL FIELD

I have seventy-five varieties of the newer and so-called improved varieties of Peonies and 60 Iris. These plants will be carefully cultivated, their habits noted, and credit will be given only when it is due. All varieties not proving up to a standard will be dumped regardless of cost of plants. Any information about this experimental field will be gladly given to any one interested.

HERBACEOUS PEONIES

From a small planting in 1905 I have now some 25,000 plants in stock, having supplied St. Louis and Chicago markets with cut flowers for Decoration Day trade the past twenty seasons and have shipped the buds as far west as Montana, and south as far as New Orleans and east to Massachusetts. I am satisfied that no crop of cut flowers grown in Southern Illinois, Missouri Indiana and Ohio promises as well as the Peony. This territory will produce the bloom five, ten to fifteen days prior to Decoration Day. Cold storage will hold them back so that the entire crop may be easily sold at fair prices.

I offer only a limited list of varieties. Too many varieties are a drawback in the packing and shipping of the buds. Plant the best varieties and eliminate the number of varieties as much as possible.

PEACH AND APPLE TREES FOR THE FALL OF 1928 AND SPRING 1929

I have over 10,000 peach trees coming on, in leading varieties; also 10,000 apple trees. They will be ready for digging in October, 1927. Come to the nursery and see them growing during the summer months. Also a full assortment of varieties in Plum, Cherry and Pear Trees, Shade Trees, Shrubs, Evergreens, Roses, Peony, Iris, Dahlia, Canna Roots and Gladiolus Bulbs; twenty acres of nursery rows.

○○

THE ST. CLAIR PEACH

The wonderful size, color, and general appearance at once puts it in the front rank as a commercial peach. The tree is a vigorous grower, bears heavy. Ripens about Sept. 1st, just after Elberta and Hale are over. This new peach will no doubt make good with the peach growers the country over. It is up to every peach grower to at least plant a few trees for trial. Price medium size trees, 50c.
